TWO PLACES TO START

DESIGN & CITY GIFTS

Tingdeco Gift Shop - West Bund Central

A Shanghai-themed gift stop that combines an art space, cultural gifts and a tea-and-coffee lounge. Browse for a small keepsake connected to the city’s visual history.

上海市徐汇区瑞金路278号101室

Room 101, 278 Ruining Road, Xuhui District, Shanghai

Before you pay

Choose the object first, then inspect its material, finish and packaging. Ask what is included in a gift set rather than judging it by the box.

TEA

Zhengshantang - Tianshan Tea City

This branch appears in Zhengshantang’s official shop directory. Use the unit number as well as the building address when you arrive at the tea market.

上海市长宁区中山西路520号天山茶城1100铺位

Unit 1100, Tianshan Tea City, 520 Zhongshan West Road, Changning District, Shanghai

Before you pay

Ask which teas are available to taste, then check the ingredient label and net weight. Buy for flavor and a quantity you will use, not a prestige story.

A MUSEUM STOP, THEN A USEFUL CHECK

MUSEUM & CULTURAL GIFTS

Shanghai Museum East - souvenir shop

Combine a museum visit with a look at its first-floor souvenir shop. Check the museum's current visitor information before planning access.

上海市浦东新区世纪大道1952号，上海博物馆东馆一楼

1F, Shanghai Museum East, 1952 Century Avenue, Pudong New Area, Shanghai

Before you pay

Inspect the actual product and read its label. Confirm the current entry arrangements on the museum's website; a shop mention is not a guarantee of admission.

Allow time to browse and compare. Use the current museum visitor page for admission arrangements. Check travel time in your preferred map before setting off.

Before you pay.

Use one sheet for a purchase you want to compare. Record the exact model or material, not just the brand.

Before departure

Keep receipts and required refund documents. Keep eligible refund goods unused. Check your destination's customs and food rules; personal-use luggage is not automatically tax-free.
